Direct Object Pronouns

me - me	nos - us
te - you	os – you all
lo -him/it/you	los/las – them/you all
la - her/it/you

A Direct Object...
Is the recipient of verb (who or what was "verbed")
can be found after the verb in English

Example: Are you boarding the plane?
¿Abordas el avión?
What is being boarded? → the plane

Direct Object Pronoun = replaces the direct object
** agrees m/f & s/p with direct object
** goes B-E-F-O-R-E the conjugated verb OR attached to the infinitive

Example: Yes, I am boarding it. / I am going to board it.
Sí, lo abordo / Voy a abordarlo. or
Lo voy a abordar.

** It = the plane → el avión (m/s) → lo

me – to/for me	nos – to/for us
te – to/for you	os – to/for you all
le – to/for you/him/her	les – to/for you all/them

An Indirect Object...
Answers the question "to/for whom/what" about the verb
Look for the personal a in Spanish

An Indirect Object Pronoun...
Is REQUIRED in Spanish, even if redundant!
Accompanies the indirect object
Goes B-E-F-O-R-E the conjugated verb or attached to the infinitive
Example: Are you giving Juan your ticket?
¿Le das tu boleto a Juan?
For whom is the ticket? → Juan
